Honorable Members:

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of

LUTHERAN HERITAGE FOUNDATION (a Michigan not-for-profit organization)

which comprise the statement of financial position as of December 31, 2014 and 2013, and the related statements of activities and changes in net assets and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Lutheran Heritage Foundation at December 31, 2014 and 2013, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Other-Matter

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. The schedule of functional expenses on page 5 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

LUTHERAN HERITAGE FOUNDATION

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2014 and 2013

NOTE A - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of organization - Lutheran Heritage Foundation (LHF) is a not-for-profit corporation organized to translate, publish, distribute and introduce historic Lutheran books and materials primarily used in the training of pastors, teachers and lay leaders.

Basis of accounting - The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

Cash equivalents - LHF considers all highly liquid investments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. At times, such investments may be in excess of the FDIC insurance limits.

Contributions and bequests receivable - Bequests receivable are recorded upon determining the validity of a will or trust after the promise to give becomes unconditional. Contributions receivable are recorded at the amount promised less any allowance for uncollectible accounts. LHF uses the allowance method to account for uncollectible receivable balances. Under the allowance method, if needed, an estimate for uncollectible balances is made based upon specific account balances that are considered uncollectible. Factors used to establish an allowance for doubtful accounts include the credit quality of the obligor and whether the balance is significant. When a receivable balance is past due and unsuccessful attempts have been made to collect the receivable, the amount is considered uncollectible and is recorded as a bad debt. At December 31, 2014 and 2013, there was no established allowance for uncollectible accounts.

Investments - Investments in equity securities with readily determinable fair values and all investments in debt securities are measured at fair value on the statement of financial position. Investment income or loss (including gains and losses on investments, interest and dividends) is included in the statement of activities and changes in net assets.

Property and equipment - Property and equipment are recorded at cost when purchased or at fair value at the date of donation and are depreciated on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. Costs of maintenance and repairs are charged to expense when incurred.

Contributions - Contributions of cash and other assets, including unconditional promises to give in the future, are reported as revenue, measured at fair value. Donor promises to give in the future are recorded at the present value of estimated future cash flows.

Contributions without donor-imposed restrictions and contributions with donor-imposed time or purpose restrictions that are met in the same reporting period as the gift, are reported as unrestricted support. Other restricted gifts are reported as restricted support and temporarily or permanently restricted net assets.

Classification of net assets - Net assets of LHF are classified as unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or permanently restricted depending on the presence and characteristics of donor-imposed restrictions limiting LHF's ability to use or dispose of contributed assets or the economic benefits embodied in those assets.

Donor-imposed restrictions that expire with the passage of time or may be removed by meeting certain requirements result in temporarily restricted net assets. Temporarily restricted net assets at December 31, 2014 and 2013, represent donor-restricted contributions to be distributed to specific countries or used for specific projects. Permanently restricted net assets result from donor-imposed restrictions that limit the use of net assets in perpetuity. There were no permanently restricted net assets at December 31, 2014 or 2013. Earnings, gains and losses on restricted net assets are classified as unrestricted unless specifically restricted by the donor or by applicable state law.

Functional allocation of expenses - The costs of providing the program and support services have been reported on a functional basis in the statement of activities and changes in net assets. Indirect costs have been allocated between the various programs and support services based on estimates, as determined by management. Although the methods of allocation used are considered reasonable, other methods could be used that would produce different amounts.

Federal Income Taxes - LHF is exempt from income tax under provisions of Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3).

Use of estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Accordingly, such information should be read in conjunction with LHF's 2013 financial statements, from which the summarized information was derived.
